Speck VS Log

Pastor Charlie Hansen

God put this message on my heart over a week ago. Since that time He has also made it clear that it won't be as I thought it would be. I tell you this because if its before 10am and you are reading this we both don't know how this will go. I ask for grace.

The warm weather looks to be here. That means vacations, weekends up North and all the things. The Church is still here every week with the AC on when needed, all that said to remind you to not forget your community.

We know that there has been some issues back with our music and live streaming. Apparently there is a limit to how much a computer can do at one time. Who Knew? We are working on it and hope in the next couple of weeks it will be all set and we won't have to ask you to put your phones on air plane mode.

We have sticker, coloring books for the young ones. They can take them home, play with them in fellowship.

Speaking of little ones...People always get flustered when a little one makes noise. If they aren't screaming, its not an issues. The fact you are bringing them is so important and can change their life. Its why we have open communion, its why kids play after church. Because someday they'll share those memories with someone else. Some of you text while in Church, no ones looking sideways at you....well I am. ☺

When I do a funeral service I tell the parents of little ones not to worry, they don't know it's a funeral. Its up to as a village to let the children it's a time we get to worship. And when they yell out AMEN smile, because I'm sure God is.
