Scriptures referenced today:

Romans 12:9

The Bible tells us we are called to share our faith. Its hard to do if we're not excited about it. Why would anyone want to hear about it if you aren't really into it and share what its done for you? We tell people about movies we've liked, restaurants we think are really good and a host of other things. Why not Jesus? I guess what I want to do is put a challenge out there. Most, if not all of us have a social media platform. We post pictures, funny memes or cute sayings. We even post different scriptures. We have 1750 people who like out FB page. Its been that way for many years. I'm asking for two things. One, invite your FB friends to like our page and Two, go on the website and give the church a review. People look at that. Please only do this if you are truly excited to share your faith and church with others. We can post our you tube channel out there and prayerfully, share the good news with thousands of people around the world. We do so much based on others recommendations, why not this? Please, only do any of this if you feel its important to share. I'll keep you posted as to what happens.
